For decades, the renowned “Pink House” has been Albany’s signature venue for special events. The treasured landmark is a favorite of sophisticated brides, governors and CEOs who rave about the handcrafted details in a historic setting so stunning that you can skimp on your décor budget. Its highlights include several dining rooms, a vintage piano parlor, and gorgeous suites for brides and their bridesmaids to make final preparations for the wedding of their dreams.

The Shackelford was designed by famed architect Edward Vason Jones, the perfectionist curator of styles of period rooms in the White House and some of the greatest homes throughout the South. For generations, Jones’ masterpiece has provided the perfect setting for weddings, bridal showers, cocktail parties, fund-raisers, reunions and corporate retreats and meetings.

As versatile as it is photogenic, the Shackelford is equally suitable for intimate bashes and 500-person guest lists. It is elegantly placed amid 10 acres of Southern charm with a lovely landscape featuring magnificent magnolias, live oaks and plenty of space to dance the night away to a live band under the stars.
